A Star Media Event

More than just a Home Show

You are not just buying space at our show you're investing in an opportunity to showcase your business over 3 amazing days at Canterbury's most advertised Home and Leisure Show. Our investment includes venue hire, carpet, power supply, spotlight, security and car parking, administration, hot drinks and lunch each day. You will also receive added value of ongoing advertising on our digital Starnews.co.nz website. Your company will be listed for 365 days after the show on The Home and Leisure Show drop down, which will be linked to your website. We want your success and profile to continue long after our event and this is our way of helping you do this.

Before the show we will promote any show specials or offers that you have through selected media. We will also include you in the exhibitors list to be published in selected print the week of the show.

After the show we will run a feature on winners from the show so if you have any prizes drawn and won after the show we can include you in this advertising in selected print if you so desire.

Star Media prides itself on our show marketing campaign, which is the largest in Canterbury. Promotion starts 6 weeks before the show and includes print, radio, TV, billboards, outdoor signs and digital. We invest $150,000 to promote our show plus give away prizes to help draw a large attendance to the show.

During the 3 day Show our goodie bags given out to the attendees, will include free samples from various companies.

NO other Home show in Canterbury offers all this added value when you book a stand.

But dont just take our word for it....

‘We have attended quite a few Home Shows in our time but this one was exceptionally good for us, in helping to launch our company in Christchurch and providing a good number of quality leads. The show had a really good atmosphere and, in addition, the organisers really looked after the exhibitors in terms of facilities and catering. I would certainly book again for the next show.’

“

Having met you earlier this year and listened to your promises, we decided to take the chance. We are glad we did because you delivered on every word. The first thing we needed to make sure after the show was we re-booked for next year, so thank you!

“I would highly recommend the Star Home and Living show to any business that wishes to showcase their products and services to a qualified crowd.

As a result of us exhibiting at the show, we had customers instore within hours purchasing from us.

I would also like to acknowledge the professionalism and excellent organisation from the team at Star Media”.
